

Hello Everyone,

If you missed our meeting last night, here is what we talked about.

- Dan went over greenhouses do's and don't, which I will be sending out a separate email on those tips. He also talked about the internships and summer job that he offers, if you are interested on working with Dan in the greenhouse and or the trail gardens please see him right after spring break and if you have any other questions for Dan about the jobs email him directly at , bulkows1@msu.edu, or you can find him in the greenhouse, he is the guy in the purple shirt. The gardens also put on a plant sale like we do, so if you would also like to help them their plant sale is May 19th.

- Dr. Baird, the department head, will be coming to ask us some question about the Horticulture department and he wants our input. Sarah will be sending out an email with a list of the question he has requested that we look over and tell him our opinion on.

- Bridget passed around a sign up sheet for interviews with, Mike Williams from Ball Horticulture Company in West Chicago. These can either be for one of their 9 internships or just a practice interview that Mike will give you feed back about. Here is a link to the internships <http://www.ballhort.com/joblisting.aspx?Intern=true>

-We went over the officer positions descriptions, if you or anyone you know would be good for an officer position please nominate them and if it is a grower or treasury we would like either a resume or a written summary of your quantification by February 15th. In order to be an officer you do have to be a Horticulture major or minor. We will be voting on February 29th. If you would like to look over the positions descriptions they are posted on our website.(website is listed below, keep scrolling till the end and you will see it)

-Nick talked about an upcoming community service event. Volunteering at Everybody Eats conference and workshop, on February 10th and 11th. We will be helping with their workshops and hopefully be participating in them as well. <http://foodsystemsworkgroup.org/everybodyeats.html>

Sorry this was a long email but hope to see you all next week!! :D
